John Paul Grimke,

HAVING waited an unreaſonable time for payment of accompts long due; now, for the LAST TIME, earneſtly requeſts all perſons indebted to him on open accompts, and who have paid little regard to his former advertiſements, to come and ſettle to his ſatisfaction, by the firſt day of July next, when the accompts of thoſe who diſregard this notice will be put into the hands of an attorney at law.

He at the ſame time deſires all perſons who have given him their notes of hand, either for caſh lent them upon intereſt, or for goods ſold them at the caſh price within eight months paſt, that they will come and give him their bonds with ſecurity. And thoſe who have bought goods of him at the caſh price, and have forgot to call and pay, are deſired to remember to do ſo now, or give to him their obligations.

LONDON, May 10.

PRINCE Heraclius of Georgia, who served in quality of a lieutenant in the King of Prussia's forces, at his return to Georgia, some years ago, determined to free his country from the Ottoman yoke. In consequence of this resolution, he drew together as many malecontents as he could, and at their head attacked several caravans which enriched him; and being now strong, both in men and booty, prevailed upon almost all Georgia to declare his father king. The latter died soon after, and prince Heraclius succeeded him, not under the title of king, which he refused, but with that of commander in chief of the Georgian army, and he has now two hundred thousand men under his command. The city of Trebisonde is fallen into his hands, and he is marching towards Constantinople, from whence, we are told, the Sultan and all his court were going to take refuge at Adrianople.

MAY 17.

The province of Georgia lies between the Caspian and Black Seas, and adjoins to Circassia and Armenia; it is very mountainous, and of difficult access, which has preserved them from being absolutely subdued by either Turks or Persians. Trebisonde is a large port town on the Black Sea, has a strong castle situated upon a rock, and the suburbs inhabited by Greeks and Armenian Christians. In 1209 David Comines, a Frenchman usurped the dominion of it, and his successor John Comines, assumed the title of Emperor, by which all his descendants were called, till 1460, when Mahomed the IId took the city, and put David Comines, the last Emperor of that family, to death; since which the Turks have possessed it. As this was the capital of a kingdom for near two hundred and thirty years, inhabited by Greek and Armenian Christians, it is not improbable but Prince Heraclius wants it to be restored to himself, and the people to enjoy their ancient religion, laws and liberties.

MAY 21.

It is said his grace the duke of Marlborough will be appointed to conduct his Majesty's youngest sister Princess Caroline Matilda, to Denmark.

Mr Foote has obtained a patent for a new theatre, and a large piece of ground in the neighbourhood of Leicester fields is purchased for that purpose.

MAY 22.

They write from Marseilles that the English Commodore Mr. Harrison was expected to arrive there, in order to attend his Serene Highness the Prince of Brunswick, by sea, to certain ports and islands his Highness proposes to visit in the Mediterranean.

According to letters from Leghorn, Gen. Paschal de Paoli had actually transmitted a memorial to the court of Versailles, in the name of the whole Corsican nation, said to be on a subject extremely interesting.

A letter from Batavia of the 22d of October 1765, gives the following summary of the Dutch successes in the Isle of Ceylon: During the last campaign, which was opened about the middle of January, nine battles were fought, in which the enemy were totally defeated. As soon as the Dutch had clambered the mountains, and taken the fortresses that defended them, the residence of Candy was immediately reduced, the king driven to the most remote mountains of the kingdom of Oova, towards Butticalo, and the royal family obliged to fly from Mandamonoere, a castle of the kingdom of Matale. Thus the pride of the court of Candy has been humbled, the blood of the Dutch that had been shed there avenged, the honour of their company vindicated and extended over all the western parts of the Indies. But scarce was the brave Baron Van Eck, their Governor, returned to Colombo, where he died, after ten days illness."

MAY 23.

They write from Dublin, that the freedom of that city is to be presented to the right hon. Mr. secretary Conway in a gold box, as a testimony of their approbation of that gentleman's conduct and attachment to the interest of these kingdoms.

MAY 26.

Some letters from Petersburgh mention, that the malecontents of Georgia have been for several months past, supplied with great quantities of military and ordnance stores from Russia, by means of a trade carried on down the river Wolga to the Caspian sea, by the merchants of Astracan.

MAY 29.

'Tis confidently said, the unfortunate count Lally died worth two millions of our money, which has been seized for the use of the government; and it is thought that one of his principal crimes was being immensely rich.

MAY 30.

Extract of a letter from Tewkesbury, May 24.

"A droll kind of contract was lately made at Bredon, near this town. —The wife of one Stanley of that place, about six years ago, having been either stolen or strayed from her husband, was taken up near London by one Clifton, of Brentford. The honest man led her home to his house, and cherished her, and ever since dwelt with her so cordially, that she brought him three fine children. But about two months ago, some qualms of conscience arising in his mind; at living in open adultery, he set out on a pilgrimage to Bredon, to accomodate the matter with the husband, and to make him such ample compensation as he might imagine his great injuries deserved.—Content is generally the lot of cuckoldom. The husband received him with civility, and entertained him with kindness; and for the valuable consideration of a dozen of ale, conveyed to his rival all right, title, and property, which he had ever possessed over the person of his dearly beloved spouse. I just now saw the covenant between them; and the fact is known to all the country."

MAY 31.

If credit may be given to private letters from Paris, orders have been transmitted to count Marbeuf, commander of the French auxiliary troops in Corsica, to observe no longer any measures with the malcontents of that island.

It is reported that the famous Monf. Lally was six months in England after the surrender of Pondicherry to the English. He had several times an opportunity of making his escape, which, as he was conscious of having discharged his duty, he refused to attempt.

JUNE 5.

Yesterday being his Majesty's birth-day, who then entered into the 29th year of his age, the morning was ushered in with ringing of bells, at noon the guns at the tower and park were fired, and their Majesties received the compliments of a most numerous train of nobility, gentry, &c. on the occasion. It is remarkable that there was not one single article of French manufacture to be seen in the magnificent dresses with which the nobility appeared at court.

That the Ottoman army, commanded by their Pascha, was encamped under Nicomedia. That all the Turkish fortresses swarmed with Janissaries; and they were putting themselves into the best state of defence. Nevertheless if they may believe some intelligent persons, they are likely soon to return under the dominion of the Greeks; but others, perhaps not so well informed of the strength and abilities of Heraclius, and of his connections with foreign powers, persuade themselves that the Georgians will speedily fall again into bondage, and with them all the Christians of the empire.

JUNE 10.

Friday last his Majesty's ship the Dolphin, commodore Byron, lately come home, went into dock at Deptford, and is now fitting out in order to proceed on another voyage to the new discovered island; the inhabitants of which are said to be about nine feet high, are of tawny complexion, and cloath themselves with the skins of wild beasts; the children in their mothers arms measure four feet in height; one of these infants was decorated with ribbons by some of our people, which so much delighted the inhabitants, that they came down to the sea shore in great numbers, bringing with them the choicest produce of their country.

By the treaty of commerce negotiating between the courts of London and Petersburg, it is said the British woollen manufacture alone will be benefitted in the annual sum of 200,000 l. sterling.

NEWCASTLE, June 7. We hear from Waller, that on Whitsun Tuesday a couple that had been called out the Sunday before, went to be married at Kirknewton, but as they were entering the church, a former lover came riding up, and leaping off his horse, insisted on being married to the woman, as she had promised him; and producing a licence, a scuffle ensued; on which the vicar called for assistance, when a gentleman came up who put an end to the fray, by insisting on the girl's taking her choice of the two lovers, when she chose him with the licence, and they went into the church and were married.

Foreign Affairs.

VENICE, MAY 9.

AN English man of war is arrived here to carry to Constantinople Mr. John Murray, who has been resident here from England, and is lately appointed by his Britannic Majesty his Ambassador at the Ottoman Porte.

NAPLES, May 10. The Marquis de Squillace, who arrived here yesterday afternoon, went immediately to an inn, where he still continues. It is not known whether he intends to reside in this capital, or on one of his own estates. He has already received several visits from persons of distinction, particularly the prices of Francavilla and Jacci, and Don Michael Reggio, commander of the galleys.

RATISBON, May 19. The elector of Bavaria, and the archbishop of Saltzbourg, as convocating princes of the circle of Bavaria, have addressed each a letter to the states, on the subject of the enrollment of the colonists for Russia, which have been raised for so long a time in the Roman Empire, and which merit the more serious attention, as the consequences may be fatal to the whole Germanic body. The depopulation of the country, and the circumstances resulting from it, have induced those two princes to write also to the circles of Franconia and Suabia, exhorting them to oppose in concert this enrollment. They particularly exhort the circle of Bavaria, as the most interested in this affair, to take within its jurisdiction the precise measures on that subject, by prohibiting the public or private levies of colonists, under the most rigorous punishments, as well in the emissaries as the emigrants; and to cause their resolutions in that respect to be published in letters patent to be fixed up, according to custom, in public places, assuring them that their electoral and serene highnesses will not fail to give them, as convocating princes, all the assistance which they may stand in need of.

PARIS, May 30. The account of what has happened at Peru sets forth, that the day of the revolt at Quito, 40 men in masks came to the custom house belonging to the Indians of Popaian, and plundered the director's cash; and that the general discontent which prevailed in that country, proceeded from the troops of St. Martha, Carthagena and other places, not having received any pay for above six months past.

The king has granted a pension of 30,000 livres to the marshal duke de Broglio, till some considerable government or command of a province becomes vacant; which much surprizes some people.

PARIS, May 30. A sentence is published, that all persons who shall have knowledge of any moveable effects and papers of any kind belonging to the late count de Lally, to declare them to the chamber of Domains before the 20th of next June, on pain of being prosecuted extraordinarily, as retainers and spoilers. It is assured, that since this sentence, a declaration hath been made to the chamber of Domains of 400,000 livres, part of which was deposited in the hands of M. Doutremont, advocate of parliament. The bankers, notaries, and agents of exchange, have given their declaration of what has come to their knowledge.

PARIS, June 2. A few days ago died here the hon. Joseph Count Gage, younger brother to the late, and uncle to the present Lord Viscount Gage. In the Mississippi year, he was worth a million sterling, and made the most considerable figure that any Englishman was ever known to have done in Paris. He resided many years in Spain, where he had the honour of being advanced to the rank of a Grandee; the latter part of his life he passed at Paris; he was greatly beloved, and his death is universally lamented.

CHARLES-TOWN, August 25, 1766.

BY a letter from Augusta we are informed, that on the 29th past in the afternoon, three inhuman villains went to the house of John Scott, Esq; (commonly called ready money Scott) a Magistrate who lives above Stephen's Creek, upon Savannah river, and robbed him of all his gold, silver and paper money, to the amount of above £. 1450, treating him and his wife in a most barbarous manner. The account we have says, when they first came to his house, they demanded his money, upon which he offered them some half-pence; but they refused to take them, saying they had not come 500 miles for his coppers; after which they seized him and his wife: The helpless old woman's head they covered with an empty bee-hive, tied her up in a blanket, ran a board's end of fire into her face, filled her eyes with ashes, and then threw her into the chimney-corner: Mr. Scott not being very ready to give up what they sought, they held him to the fire till his eyes were ready to start out of his head, burnt his toes almost off, heated irons and branded and burnt him in a shocking manner, and then made him swear three times on the bible, that he had no more money —None of the perpetrators of this horrid barbarity are yet discovered.

Last Tuesday died, Mr. Christopher Gadsden, jun. a very promising youth, oldest son to Christopher Gadsden, Esq. And

On Sunday morning, Doctor Lionel Chalmers was married, to Miss Elizabeth Warden.

ABOUT three years since a valuable and efficacious STYPTIC, for stopping all external as well as internal bleedings in either sex, was discovered by Mr. THOMAS PIERCE, near Billiter-Square, Fenchurch street, LONDON, who immediately caused a number of experiments to be made of its effects on ANIMALS, which being performed in the presence of several gentlemen of the faculty, and proving satisfactory (beyond expectation) to them and other spectators, encouraged him to administer it first to himself, and since that time to a great number of persons, who are indebted to the use of it for the cure of sudden bleedings, as well as confirm'd hemorrhages, which, before the discovery of this Styptic, were deem'd incurable.

Sold by the proprietor, T. Peirce, (wholesale and retail) at his house, near Billiter-square, Fenchurch-street, London, with proper instructions for application in all cases, signed with his own hand writing. And by appointment of the proprietor) at Messrs CRUDE & WILSON's Shop, and at TIMOTHY's Printing-Office, and no where else in Charles-Town, SOUTH-CAROLINA. The powders at 25 s. a bottle which cure all external fresh wounds; the elixir at 35 s. a bottle, which cures all inward bleedings, such as vomitting or spitting of blood, fluxes, &c. It heals all blood-vessels broke within the body, and cures all inward wounds.

The conviction of the real merit is the true reason of offering it to the public, as its success is rested on its experienced utility.

UPON

The Repeal of the STAMP-ACT,

PREACH'D

At SAVANNAH in GEORGIA, on the 25th of June, 1766.

By J. J. ZUBLY, V. D. M.

Brethren, ye have been called unto Liberty; only use not Liberty as an occasion to the Flesh.

But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

TEXT. ZECHARIAH viii. 10, 11, 12.

For before these days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. For the seed shall be prosperous: the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew: and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

☞ In this discourse, this new World is considered as under Divine Theocracy. And the justness of the author's comparisons of present with past events, with the elegance of thought, design and expression, render it worthy to be transmitted to Posterity.
